Smart contract

A smart contract is a self-executing program stored on a blockchain that runs automatically when predetermined conditions are met.

 A digital agreement → written in code instead of on paper.

 Immutable → once deployed, you can't change it (unless the contract is designed to allow upgrades).

 Self-executing → no middleman needed; the code enforces the rules.

Key Features

- Decentralized → runs on blockchain nodes, not on a single server.
- Transparent → anyone can inspect the code and transactions.
- Secure → protected by blockchain's cryptography.
- Automatic → triggers actions without manual intervention.

Benefits of smart contracts:

1. Automation

Actions are executed automatically when conditions are met

— no need for human intervention.

Saves time and reduces errors.

2. Trust & Transparency

Code is visible on the blockchain, so all parties can verify the rules.

No one can secretly change the agreement after deployment.

3. Security

Uses blockchain cryptography, making it very hard to tamper with.

Transactions are immutable once recorded.

4. Cost Savings

Eliminates middlemen like banks, brokers, or legal services.

Reduces transaction and administrative fees.

5. Accuracy

Executes exactly as coded — no misinterpretation.

Minimizes paperwork and manual errors.

6. Speed

Processes happen in minutes or seconds instead of days.

Great for fast payments and real-time agreements.

✓ 100% Decentralized

✓ 100% Distributed Plan

✓ 100% Verified Smart Contract
